

CORPORATE RETREAT

August 15, 2013

Through our first corporate retreat, it became abundantly clear how passionate we are in what we do and how genuinely enthusiastic we are doing it together.

We're committed to helping people make positive changes

We at humanworks are committed to helping people make positive life changes. We believe that work can play a healthy core identity piece in one's life. We strive to assist others in realizing a life where work is part of a healthy balanced existence.

Through animated conversations, we agreed humanworks has a strong sense of idealism and commitment to making a positive difference in the lives of others.

Culture & Growth

We agreed the two central themes that stood out in our VISION conversation were culture & growth. We strongly value the collective company culture we have and are nurturing. And, we are excited about the evolutionary company expansion that will naturally emerge as we mature.

We expressed the importance of growth not occurring at the expense of our passion for what we do and what we currently cherish.

we vs. me

relationships

client-focus/commitment

(small “e”) exclusive/Inclusive

resilience/support/safety

human-focused

An organizational identity that is strong, consistent and caring

Together, we shall realize our efforts & desired future state.